

Can a function have both a global and a local minimum? If so, provide an example. If not, explain why.